BRICKLEY GUEST AT ALL-NIGHT PARTY

GOODBYE TO GEN. EDWARDS

LITTLE VISITOR JOINS IN FAREWELL

General Clarence R. Edwards, at right, today relinquished command of the First Corps Area to Brigadier-General M. J. Hervey (at left), and Madeline Shipley, 14 years old, of No. 138 Beacon street, Brookline, was present to say "good-bye" to the "Daddy" of the famous 8th Division.

General Edwards retired after forty-three years' service. Twelve before he made official farewells to New England, but today's ceremony was final. General Edwards is wearing sixty-four years of age, the age limit for active army service. By retiring a month before reaching the official retirement age he made possible the promotion of a number of his fellow officers.

Today's ceremony took place at the army base in South Boston.

HOLD HUSBAND OF THE WOMAN BURIED ALIVE

New York, Dec. 1 (By International News Service).—Evidence indicating that Mrs. Jane Becker was buried alive in a makeshift, hinged grave in a vacant lot after being clubbed into unconsciousness, was submitted to the Grand Jury this afternoon by Dr. Karl Kennard, assistant medical examiner of Bronx county.

The physician said a painstaking examination disclosed that the murderer struck the woman, mother of four children, just once. This blow, he added, was not necessarily fatal, although sufficient to make her insensible.

Dr. Kennard said the position of the body when unearthed strongly supported his contention. The general arrangement of the limbs, he said, made it appear Mrs. Becker had been struggling violently when death and the heave of earth stopped her.

JUDGE WARNS JURY TAKING PONZI CASE

The case of Charles Ponzi and five co-defendants charged with larceny and conspiracy went to the jury today.

Judge Frederick W. Fieldock warned the jurors to disregard Ponzi's plea of guilty in Federal court, as well as the final finding of that court.

"We are trying an unusual case," he said, "a case which more than other cases requires us not to yield our judgment to popular clamor, one way or the other. The elements of human sympathy must not enter into your decision."

"The plea in the Federal Court is not to be treated as a confession, but as merely an admission. It might have been a false admission because of pressure or because of some expected benefit to be derived from it."

"Whether Ponzi has been punished enough is not your business. That question belongs to the judge. The motive of the attorney-general's prosecution must not affect your decision."

"If Ponzi truly believed his business was an investment, he is entitled to it. If you cannot find him guilty, since the law does not punish a state of mind, if there was a lack of care in verifying things, remember that a man cannot be found guilty for carelessness."

"If the transactions were legitimate loans, it was proper for Ponzi to furnish his home, his other stock, or do what he wished with the money."

"The real kernel of the conspiracy charges is the existence of an agreement to do crime. You must consider whether such an agreement was made."

Judge Fieldock expressed sympathy for the death of the father of one of the jurors, David MacLiffe, but asked that such feelings of sympathy be not allowed to affect the decision in this case.

Today was the twenty-ninth day of the trial.

ADULT MURDER IN R. I.

Sweetheart Says Man Hunted by Posse Told Her of the Killing; Girl Arrested

Woonsocket, R. I., Dec. 1.—Miss Yvonne Martin, seventeen years old, of No. 63 Polo street, this city, was arrested today by Woonsocket police on the charge of having aided in the escape of Isidor Guillaum, her twenty-year-old sweetheart, who is sought for the murder of Albert Tonchetti, a storekeeper in Blackstone, on Thanksgiving eve.

The police claim the girl made a signed confession, that Guillaum not only admitted shooting the storekeeper but confessed to two previous hold-ups in his greed to raise money for a good time.

"Isidor told me he would never be taken alive," the girl told the police. "When he jumped through the window in his father's home he had two loaded revolvers with him."

"He called for me after the shooting and we went to a dance at Silver Lake in Bellingham, near the Massachusetts line."

"Isidor said the storekeeper fired at him first and that he fired in self defense. He told me on the way to the dance he hoped he had killed the man. At the dance we heard some of the couples talking about the shooting at Blackstone and they said they had learned that the man had died."

"That evening Isidor. After returning from the dance Isidor stayed at my house all night. Thursday morning we went by the home of Isidor's parents at No. 475 Ingersoll avenue, close to my home. While we were there police surrounded the house and Isidor grabbed two men. I followed him and saw the police. I was taken to the police station by guard M. Cunningham."

FISHER WARNS OF C. L. AND INFLATION

By Commonwealth News Service.
New Haven, Ct., Dec. 1.—General inflation and rising costs of living are rapidly approaching in the United States, according to Professor Irving Fisher, internationally known political economist of Yale University.

"The next two years should see a steady, general rise in the cost of living," said Dr. Fisher today.

"This will undoubtedly be based on the high tariff and the present administration. In any case, the tariff is too high, and the tariff will be to blame for only a small part of the inflation."

"Whether the Republicans will be turned out of office at the next election because of this condition remains to be seen. But already the cry throughout the country, especially from the Farmers-Labor element, is 'vote them out, try somebody else.'"

"The rising cost of living will not be felt so much during the present winter, nor do I think conditions among labor and the very poor will cause so much suffering during this period. But look out for the winter following. Wages are much slower in rising than prices, you know."

STABILIZING DOLLAR.

Dr. Fisher believes lack of stability in price levels is a chief cause of unrest and discontent throughout this country and the world. With other economists, business men and government officials, he is endeavoring to work out plans that will do away with drastic inflation and deflation. He is the author of a plan for stabilizing the dollar, which will soon be placed before Congress.

"Stabilization of the dollar is the second greatest national problem we have," said Dr. Fisher. "The first is a peace—world peace."

"The United States can be nearly self-sufficient and independent of Europe, in a way, because our foreign trade is small. But we can't expect a harmonious adjustment with Europe until Europe is at peace with itself."

"Deflation and inflation are equally bad for our country. It was the recent deflation which led to the upset in politics."

"The stabilization of prices in Germany and France is dependent on the reparations question. Until that is out of the way conditions there must go from bad to worse, and the unsettling effect of European shifting price levels on our trade must not be discounted."

MAJESTIC WILL BE REPAIRED IN BOSTON AGAIN

New York, Dec. 1.—Officers of the White Star liner Olympic said today that the $5,000,000, 1,000-foot floating drydock now being built at Tyneside for the London & Southwestern Railway Company, would be ready to receive ships in a few months.

Great "tables" of re-enforced concrete, each with ninety-four legs, are to be constructed in Southampton harbor for the mooring of the world's largest floating drydock.

It is understood that the floating drydock will not be ready in time for the Majestic to have her hull scraped and painted at the end of April, and she will probably make another trip to Boston and go into the naval dock as she did last month.

MAP PROGRAM TO HELP FARMERS

Washington, Dec. 1.—The Administration had ready today a program of legislation for the financial relief of farmers formulated in agreement with Senate Leaders on both the agriculture and banking committees and to be presented with their support at the short session of Congress.

The death list stood at seventeen while eighteen persons are known to have been seriously injured and thirty-three slightly hurt. It was thought that a clear check might reveal further casualties.

ATTACKED CITY HALL.
The city, after a night of excitement, found its main place before the Municipal Building a shambles of broken glass, timbers and stones—evidence of the anger of the mob which forced its way into the building half an hour after the police rifles had taken their toll.

The trouble started when a crowd marched to the City Hall to protest against the aldermen who are held responsible for conditions leading to the water famine.

The demonstration was intended by the labor unions that organized it as a peaceful protest, and several hundred persons paraded the downtown streets before proceeding to the hall. These protesters were reinforced along the route, and when the Municipal Building was reached the crowd numbered 2,000.

POLICE FIRE INTO MOB.
Telling investigators against the aldermen, the mob started hurling stones and other missiles. When the demonstrators made a rush the police met their advance by firing their rifles over the heads of the crowd. The mob continued to advance. The police aimed their rifles point blank and fired with deadly effect.

EXPLOSION CAUSES SOUTH STATION SCARE.
Hundreds of Thanksgiving travelers in South Station were given a scare when an air reservoir on a New Haven locomotive exploded, badly damaging one side of the engine and rattling windows in nearby coaches. No one was injured.

The accident, caused by a defective safety valve, occurred when the inbound and outbound morning traffic was at its heaviest. Rumors that dynamite in the coal was the cause were soon dispelled by trainmen.

PARENTS DISOWN RUNAWAY DAUGHTER.
Parents of Emily Drago, eighteen-year-old South Boston girl, who disappeared from her home over a week ago, today disowned her, saying they would not receive her even if she wished to come back. They believe she has eloped with one of her suitors. Miss Drago was employed as a stenographer. Following her sudden departure, she sent a telegram to her parents, giving the "lack of freedom at home" as reason for leaving.

A gold embroidered cloth of unusual beauty, used for more than 300 years in the Unitarian Church at Kilmacurragh, Roscommon, the oldest Unitarian church in the world, has been presented to King's Chapel.

The Rev. Dr. Harold E. R. Speight, assistant pastor of that church, brought it from that country this summer.

DYING IN HOSPITAL OF POISON LIQUOR.
Poisonous moonshine was another victim to the City Hospital, when an unidentified man, found unconscious in a doorway at No. 9 Malden Street, South End, was taken there suffering from alcoholism. The man, who is on the danger list, is about 45 years old, 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighing 225 pounds. He had sandy hair and wore a gray overcoat.

Lawrence, Dec. 1.—In special session, the Lawrence City Council unanimously adopted resolutions condemning the Ku Klux Klan and the alleged activities in this city. The resolutions were introduced by Alderman George C. Callahan. It was alleged that the organization sought to take root in this city at a meeting held on Providence hill, at which were present certain high officials of the national Ku Klux Klan.

ABY, STRAPPED IN CHAIR DIES OF BURNS

James and Michael Crilla, small sons of Mrs. Mary Crilla, of 27 Stanover street, North End, were terribly burned, this morning, in a fire in the kitchen of their home. The children were strapped in their chairs when the fire broke out. The mother went to an errand and the fire was caused by one of the youngsters playing with matches.

Ignore Reformers, Please Yourself in Dress, Woman Says

New York, Dec. 1.—Please yourself in dress, because you can't please the reformers. This is the attitude taken by Helen Johnson, speaking on a dress before the women members of the Brooklyn Institute of Art and Science.

She said: "When there was tight lacing reformers were horrified; when women threw the laces away, they were still horrified. You can't please them—to please yourselves."

Flames were shooting from the windows, and it was first believed that the building was doomed. Quick work, however, confined the flames to the crulla house. The damage was estimated at $500.

New York, Dec. 1—A diplomat, a relief worker and a labor leader back today from Soviet Russia or nearby countries gave their impressions of the conditions in the country in Europe richest in resources.

Famine and death were seen menacing the country by Ivo N. Morris, American minister in Sweden. Tractors, rather than gold, were seen as the salvation of Russia by David A. Brown of Detroit, commissioner of the American Jewish Relief, who says the country's fields lie idle for want of the plough. Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, brought back with him the vision of a new social system working out its destiny in a measurably successful manner despite trials and tribulations, want and aggression.

Thousands of graves are being dug in anticipation of many deaths from starvation in Russia, Mr. Morris said. He asserted that the famine that would grip the country this winter would surpass all others in severity.

"Fifty thousand American tractors," said Mr. Brown, "are turned with Mrs. Brown and their daughter, Rosalie, and an organization to teach their use, will do more than a hundred million dollars worth of foodstuffs to save the Russian people from starvation and put them back on the road to economic independence."

"It is admitted, even by the Russian Government, that approximately $500,000 will need help this winter. The great burden will rest upon the generosity of America."

"Before the war Russia was a century behind the rest of Europe, industrially. She cannot catch up at once, but particularly her immediate resources are limitless. Famine, starvation, pestilence and war have laid waste to her lands, but thousands and tens of thousands of men, such as any of the wheat and corn lands of the Middle West, grow up in a single season."

"Foughts are needed to solve Russia's problem—and something is being done. Her horses and cattle are gone."

Mr. Hillman was enthusiastic concerning the economic aspect of Russia's condition. He said that the new economic policy in the last year had tended to stabilize the country.

TERROR REIGN REPORTED IN ATHENS

London, Dec. 1 (By International News Service)—Many rumors are current that a reign of terror has developed at Athens, and are circulated today following the action of the Greek revolutionary committee in establishing a strict censorship in the Greek capital.

The revolutionists have arrested three more persons prominent in the disastrous campaign against the Turks. They are Generals Papagou, Vassiliou and Demetriou.

The action follows the isolation by the committee of King George, the minister of finance, Prince Andrew, brother of Constantine, and the execution of five members of the war cabinet and General Marzoukian.

King George is still being held virtually a prisoner in his palace at Athens after having been refused permission to leave the country.

Arrives from Athens state that the royal palace is guarded by gendarmes under control of the revolutionary committee.

When King George found he could not prevent the execution of former finance ministers and other states and in Henry officials he asked permission to abdicate but the revolutionary committee refused to let him try.

Prince Andrew has not yet been arrested, but he is reported to be held in immediate.

Advises say Premier Gounaris and other members of the Greek government do not intend to leave the country, but are being held in the palace at Athens. The British legation at Athens is reported to be guarded by gendarmes.

Lloyd George Backed Greeks in War Plan

Paris, Dec. 1 (By International News Service)—Lloyd George, premier of Great Britain, today announced that he had agreed to support the Greek government in its war plan against the revolutionists.

According to the Athens correspondent of the state "there is no danger that the Greek government will not be able to carry out its plan."

Return of the King Weans Lloyd George

London, Dec. 1—C. H. "Shakespear," M. P. who was secretary to Lloyd George in 1910, today admitted the former cabinet's policy was favorable in Greece until Constantine returned to Athens from exile in Switzerland.

Then Lloyd George withdrew his support, subsequently the British premier made two efforts to secure Turkey's peace, Shakespear said, and eventually withdrew his support.

"PLOT SOLITARIO" HELPS AUTHORESS

An interesting method of obtaining inspiration for a new novel or story is that utilized by Adele Blonden, authoress of "Whispering Willows."

Blonden took a long hike through the open spaces surrounding her home. Then she played a plot on her head as if preparing for another hike and returns to her study.

PRISON LIFE IS GREAT, SAYS W. BROS. LLOYD, FREE AGAIN

RICH 'RED' ENJOYED 'HIS REST'

Wife Greets Him at Gates and Is Glad They Didn't Cut His Hair

Mr. Lloyd, Dec. 1.—William Bros. Lloyd, wealthy Chicago radical and fifteen associates had their liberations from prison after serving eight days of sentences for violation of the Illinois Anti-Syndicalism Act to be thankful for today. Governor Len Small commuted their terms.

Shortly before 11 o'clock Lloyd and the six others sent to Joliet Prison from one to five years, walked out. Three hours later the nine men confined in the Cook County Jail, all sentenced to serve one year, were released.

Mrs. Lloyd was waiting at the prison gates for her husband in the family limousine, accompanied by Robert Howe, Lloyd's secretary.

"Well, Bill," Howe queried after the interchange of greetings, "how'd you like it?"

"Great," replied Lloyd. "It's a good rest—would be for a tired business man."

"Oh, honey," interjected Mrs. Lloyd, "did you cut your hair?"

"Not one whip," answered Lloyd as he removed his hat.

Lloyd, in giving his impression of prison life, said that he believed prisoners who could not maintain friendly relations with their guards were persons who were always in trouble. "I remember at college," he said, "there were some men who could not get along with certain teachers and I found these teachers fine. Well, it is the same down there." In announcing executive clemency for the convicted men, Gov. Small said that he was in accord with the dissenting opinion written by Justice Owen S. Carter, who questioned the constitutionality of the law.

DEFIED BOLSHEVISTS; ESCAPES IN DISGUISE

ILIODOR, "MAD MONK OF RUSSIA" Sergei Michaelovitch Tsuranoff, a disciple of the Russian royal family, who arrived in New York after fleeing Russia in disguise. He was actually a Russian royal family member, who was arrested in the Soviet Union and was released in 1918. He is better known as Iliodor, the "Mad Monk."

RUSSIA'S 'MAD MONK' HERE TO JOIN BAPTISTS

New York, Dec. 1.—Sergei Michaelovitch Tsuranoff, better known as "Iliodor, the Mad Monk of Russia," is in New York with his wife and three children. They arrived on the Lithuanian.

Iliodor declared to Department of Justice agents and immigration officials, who questioned him as to his mission, that he desired to become an American citizen, a Baptist minister and to work among Russians in the United States.

Speaking through interpreters, Iliodor said he had passed through much peril and hardship since his last visit to the United States in 1916. At that time he gained notoriety by contracting to expose alleged scandals in the Russian royal family in a popular magazine, only to have the article killed before publication.

Iliodor was once a confidant of Rasputin, the monk, whose influence over the Czarins led to his murder by Russian nobles.

At Easton, N. J., he declared, he met the Czar Nicholas, the Czarina and their children on May 8, 1918, a short time before they were assassinated. They were actually short of food, Iliodor said.

The Bolsheviks shortly after this requested him to preach to the Red army, he said, threatening its members with excommunication and other religious penalties in order to stimulate their morale and retain their loyalty to the Soviet cause.

Indignant at the treatment of the royal family, Iliodor said he refused and was threatened with arrest. He escaped by disguising himself as a religious pilgrim. He said he was with both the White and Red armies at different times for a period of eighteen months.

Army Tests Show Women 50-50 With Men

New York, Dec. 1.—The only difference between the female and male head is that man's hair is clipped close.

"Men and women have the same amount of intelligence. When we give the army intelligence tests to women they pass on a par with men."

That is what Professor Robert Sessions Woodworth of the department of psychology at Columbia University said today.

The army tests were designed for men, it was pointed out.

"Women make a particularly good showing in tests dealing with language, symbols and numbers—things necessary to the business woman," he said. "Men are better than women at motor tests."

Nine others of the crew were rescued on a life line, jumping from the bridge into a lifeboat.

Oakland, Cal., Dec. 1.—His wife, in whom he parted thirty-two years ago and never saw again, was mentioned in affectionate terms in a will on file here today and is named as the legatee of George Nutt, 82½, a widower, who died in Richmond, Cal. The property amounts of $4,000 in addition to life insurance.

W. J. Moorehouse, the executor of the will, said that Nutt had sent his wife, who resided in Auburn, Me., $75 monthly throughout the thirty-two years.

BRICKLEY GUEST AT ALL NIGHT PARTY, SAYS PROBE WITNESS

ROOM AND WOMEN THERE

City Council was among those present. It was a "late" affair. "A few stayed over night," said Scharton. The party was held last February and was a farewell one to Scharton prior to his trip to Germany. The festivity came up at today's session of the Finance Commission's inquiry into alleged graft in the hidden place hand deal as the origin of the "diamond ring" deal of $100 by Courtland Jacobson to Albert Jacobs of Everett.

HE CAN'T FIND BRICKLEY. Scharton testified in accounting for some of his bank deposits now under inquiry, that one deposit of $100 was of money stolen from him on account of a Brickley loan to one Jacob.

Scharton explained today that when Brickley loaned Jacobs $700 on the diamond ring, Brickley agreed to make good any loss to the Council president.

Scharton testified that Brickley pawned the ring for $100 or $150 and then the witness paid $100 to Brickley to make up the balance of the loan.

Another feature of today's session was the continued absence of the numerous Andrew J. Sullivan of North Boston.

He said Senator John J. Gartland, who claims he lost $700 to Sullivan on an account of a loan, was the figure in the case. The witness said that he had a search line on the stand.

Testimony to effect that Councilman Brickley has maintained two places of residence for more than two years.

Brickley, said the president of the City Council, had a room at the New Hotel since November 12, 1921, although registered from a room in West Roxbury, was given by Daniel C. Rhodes, clerk of the house.

The witness produced the books of the hotel, which showed that Brickley had continuously maintained a room there at an expense of $11 a week and that he had paid that in 1921 charges for laundry, telephone, tailoring and for cigars.

WITNESS ALSO THERE. Questioned by Attorney Dowling, counsel for the commission, Rhodes testified that Mr. Walter B. Jones, a former witness, was from time to time a guest at the hotel.

Jones had testified he received money from the councilman. It was the payment of this loan and others that Brickley has made made up the cash which he deposited.

A part of the money he deposited originally came from a porkchop, according to Attorney William H. Mahoney, a previous witness.

Question by Attorney Dowling: Why did you give Brickley the money? A—At the time of the transaction I thought for Jacobs. Brickley said he wanted the money and so I had to make good.

Q—Did you give him the money by check or cash? A—By cash.

Q—Where did you get it from? A—As I recall it came from a porkchop who had been in the office that morning.

Q—Then you want us to understand the money? A—It might have been a porkchop or some kind of crook. At the present time there are a couple of murderers waiting for me to defend them. It may have come from a man higher up in the crime.

Q—Can you give us the name of some of the men? A—Brickley was there. Jacobs, and Daniel Rhodes, the musicians from the Westminster Hotel, all friends of mine, also attended.

Q—Was it a card party? A—No. We had a few drinks, a general good time and a supper.

NICHARTON'S STORY. Q—How long did it last? A—Till late. A few stayed over night.

Q—How did the matter of Brickley's loan arise? A—There was a discussion as to money needed for the trip to Germany. Jacobs said he thought he had enough. He also had a diamond ring which he could get a loan on should be needed.

I told him that diamonds were cheaper in Germany than here and that he would not be able to raise so much. Somebody asked how much he should be able to realize on it and somebody said $100. Brickley said I have that much money, but said that he did not know whether he could get his money back on the ring if he needed it. I told him I would vouch for Jacobs and so Brickley gave him the money and took the ring.

McGowan said he gave the $400 to Brickley when the latter demanded it. He took no receipt because he wanted to forget the deal.

He said Jacobs lives in Everett and that he had not talked with him about the matter since.

Majestic, After Her Boston Grooming, Breaks Record

The Majestic, world's largest steamship, also became the world's fastest liner today, when she completed her trip to Cherbourg, France, in 6 days, 6 hours, 15 minutes, breaking the former record held by the Mauretania of 6 days, 8 hours, 10 minutes.

The Majestic was recently cleaned in dry dock at Boston and equipped with new propellers. She left Ambrose Light November 25, at 12:17 p. m., and maintained an average speed of 34.9 knots and hour.

ADMITS MURDER IN R. T.

and revolver and jumped through the window without his hat or coat. "They'll never take me alive," he shouted back at us, as he made the leap and ran for the woods."

It was learned today that a little Westchester, however, furnished information to the police which sent them in pursuit of Guiltville. The little girl ran up to a policeman Thanksgiving morning and told him she had seen the man who shot Touchette enter the home of Guiltville's parents on Burnside avenue, and she knew the man because she had witnessed the shooting the night before.

In his excitement the patrolman forgot to take the name of the little girl. While Miss Martin was being questioned at police headquarters, a posse of 600 citizens, many of them armed, were combing the fields and woods in Blackstone Valley for the elusive "slayer."

EXPECT A BATTLE. The searchers looked for a pitched battle in the event that Guiltville was cornered. Officials fear he will carry out his threat of suicide.

Albert Touchette was shot to death in a gun battle in his little shop on Rathbun street, Blackstone, just over the line in Massachusetts. The shooting was done by a boy, hands who attempted to rob the till. Until the newsgirl gave the clue the police were on a blind trail.

They think the arrest of Guiltville will solve a series of hold-ups here about. In view of the statement made by Miss Martin that heider admitted to her he had been in two other robberies.

WOULD MAKE IT CRIME TO JOIN KLAN

Declaring that the Ku Klux Klan is operating on the very threshold of the City Government and that prominent members are using the Klan as a cover for their activities, the Council and the Good Government Association, for their ends, have elected J. Frederick Curran of East Boston has filed a bill in the House of Representatives making Klan membership a crime in Massachusetts.

"Klan is the home of Ku Klux Klan and it will find itself terrorized by the law," said Curran. "It is a law measure to state, out this measure," said Mr. Curran, continuing on his bill.

"The Ku Klux Klan is an outgrowth of that element which brought out in East Boston twenty-five years ago in Princeton street, when A. P. A. parade resulted in an all day riot and the killing of eight persons."

Members of the Klan are getting control of the city government, and are undermining the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. I have information showing that there are 100,000 initiated members of the Klan in Massachusetts, and 10,000 in Boston last.

"The Klan is working through other organizations, many of which are innocent of their manipulations. The Local Council and the Good Government Association are being used as Klan vehicles."

"I have learned that the Boston Klan is planning a night parade to show its strength. Such a parade would be a disgrace that Boston could not tolerate."

CANADIANS ARE DRINKING LESS HARD LIQUOR

Montreal, Dec. 1.—Statistics of from 5 to 10 cents a bottle in the case of 115 brands of wines and liquors were announced today by George A. Sward, chairman of the Quebec Liquor Commission.

The new prices Mr. Sward declared, were lower than the prevailing prices in the countries of the liquor's origin because of foreign exchange rates, and lower than sales in effect before the advent of the government vendor system. This was made possible, he said, because of centralized control of the trade was net profit and low operating expenses.

Less liquor was consumed in Canada per head last year than during any previous year since records have been kept, but consumption of beer increased over last year, according to the annual report today of the Department of Customs and Excise made in Ottawa.

Per capita consumption of liquor was 38 gallons, as compared with 46 gallons for 1921 and 1.98 gallon or 18 1/2. Consumption of beer was 137 gallons, an increase over last year, while consumption of wine was 637 gallons, less than half of last year's average.

Canadian Province Adopts "Turn-to-Right" Rule

Providence, N. H., Dec. 1.—The rule of the road in this province today is "Turn to the right."

A 12-1/2-mile act changed the traffic rule to conform with conditions in the United States and the majority of Canadian provinces.

Since the first settlement of New Brunswick the English "turn-to-the-left" system has been followed. The change was due to the number of accidents due to a great influx of automobile tourists from districts where the more modern plan prevailed.

Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia are the only Canadian province in which the old rule continues.

FRENCH MILITARY MISSION COMING

Paris, Dec. 1 (by the Associated Press).—The Chamber of Deputies today approved an amendment, proposed by the military committee, appropriating $5,000,000 francs to "send a mission of five officers to America for the purpose of studying road relations. No specific countries in either North or South America were mentioned.

NASHUA MILL STRIKERS FOR FINISH FIGHT

Nashua, N. H., Dec. 1.—The mill strike in this city is no nearer settled today than it was on February when it started. The work here is in no mood to accept the terms as laid down by the mill employers and the sentiment appears to be in favor of a fight to the finish.

The workers will hold another big mass meeting on Sunday night at St. Jean Baptiste Hall, and it is doubtful if they will vote to return plans are being made to finance the fight to a finish and on Friday and Saturday of this week a large demonstration from the city will conduct a tag day in Lawrence.

DENT MILL'S CLAIM.

The strikers here accept the statements issued by the mill, as to the number employed, with some doubt. Agent R. S. Milliken stated that when the strike started there were 2,800 employed at the Nashua Mills and at the present time there were 2,600 on the pay roll and a total of 250 registered for work, which included the 1,600 now at work.

Members of the strikers committee state that the number employed is nearer half the number set by the mill agent, and of that number the majority of them are unskilled help.

The strikers state that of those originally at work in the mill fully 1,200 have left the city, and a large number of these will never return, as they have secured good jobs with fair working conditions in other cities.

LACK SKILLED HELP.

Those in a position to know also claim that the mills are lacking in skilled help, and especially in loom fixers, and that they have made overtures to a number of the loom fixers on strike, trying to persuade them to return to their old positions.

Organizer Horace A. Rivers, who is in charge of the work in this city, has done a great service in keeping the organization together, and he will address the big mass meeting here on Sunday night.

BOY KILLED PLAYING WILD WEST IN HOUSE

Providence, Dec. 1.—Accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of Americo Phillips, fourteen, caused the instant death of Edward J. Bernier, fourteen, while the boys were playing wild west with James Phannican, eleven, in the kitchen of the latter's home.

KILLED WHEN ABOUT TO RECEIVE $500.00

New York, Dec. 1.—Today Charles Warren, sixty-five years old, a justice of the peace, was shot and killed by a bullet fired from a pistol which he was holding as he was about to receive $500.00 from an estate to which he had fought fifty years to establish himself as heir. On his way to work he was struck by an auto and died soon afterward.

SAYS TELEPATHY BOY EMPEROR WILL LINK US OF CHINA AND WITH PLANETS PRINCESS WED

By International News Service.
New York, Dec. 1.—Thought transference, or telepathy, is the latest craze in the world, and it is no wonder that the Emperor of China, who is believed to be a telepathist, should have been the subject of such a story.

The story, which is being widely circulated in the East, says that the Emperor, who is believed to be a telepathist, has been able to communicate with the planets and the stars. It is said that he has been able to do this for many years, and that he has been able to do so in a way that has been described as "mystical" and "mysterious."

The story is being widely circulated in the East, and it is no wonder that it should be so. It is a story that is full of mystery and wonder, and it is a story that is full of things that are new and strange to most people.

The story is being widely circulated in the East, and it is no wonder that it should be so. It is a story that is full of mystery and wonder, and it is a story that is full of things that are new and strange to most people.

Jordan Marsh Company MEN—Get in step with Christmas!

For your own comfort or for gifts to other men, your friends, you'll find many articles of men's apparel in this Great Store that are unusual and distinctive.

Mothers and daughters, sisters and sweethearts, will find here the kind of gifts men like best, for they are the things men are buying for themselves.

Distinctive Neckwear, First!

France, Italy, Switzerland and England contribute their best silks for the making of these ties:

—Silks personally selected by our buyer when in Europe, our own direct importations:

—Also best grades of American silks:

Fashioned into ties of correct proportion and perfect workmanship—to the best of our knowledge the largest and most worthy collection of Men's Neckwear anywhere in Boston

At 95c

Thousands of all silk ties that look like much higher-priced neckwear; nearly all patterns—figures, bias stripes, dots, squares; American and imported silks included; also wool-filled silk crepe in printed warp effects that are very new.

At 1.50

A wonderful display of all silk ties, including some really new striped effects in unusual combinations—the work of a very clever maker; imported crocheted fibre ties that look like silk; and new striped grenadine ties.

At 65c

Silk ties of heavy bias corded weave, stripes and figures; broadened satin ties—scores of patterns with a full range of good colors in each.

Other Ties of Imported Silks, including Brocades and Mogadores—Undoubtedly the finest Silks in the world—at 2.00, 2.50, 3.50, 4.00 and 5.00

Don't be a Last Minute Man

There is no more time to see a man rushing around just before Christmas buying a lot of ill-considered stuff. A certain amount of emergency buying is unavoidable, but long ago I resolved to get my gift choosing done early in the game.

Someone once said: "Buying requires good sense—and on Christmas Eve, good sense the more you have, the better it is to be." So don't be a last-minute man!

Quality counts in Christmas gifts even more than when buying for yourself—because you'll naturally go to the store where quality is always dependable. In choosing apparel gifts for men my experience shows conclusively that there is no store where a larger variety of articles of real quality are offered than in the Men's Section of the Jordan Marsh Company.

Years for better apparel.

Frederick S. Allen Another Eligible Society Bachelor, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

Charles E. Cotting, Francis Brooks, Dudley Pickman, Jr., Frederick S. Allen.

THOUGH Frederick S. Allen's family lives in New York, he himself spends enough time in the city to be ranked as one of Boston's six most eligible bachelors. Wherefore we are adding him to the list today. Mr. Allen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Allen, is quite tall, with light hair and blue eyes. He has rather a sweet, boyish face and by no means shuns the gentle art of dancing. In fact, he is one of the leading spirits for the bachelors' ball held in Boston each year, and on occasion whereby various unattached members of the summer set may receive the many hospitalities extended to them throughout the season.

Last year, if I recall correctly, the Duxbury sisters furnished the "outside" talent at the ball, which was held at the Copple-Piazza. This year the rather properly anticipated event will probably take place in February, as in former season.

Besides which Freddy Allen is quite an accomplished pianist and singer, talents whereby he frequently entertains his friends at a Harvard man, class of '04, and a member of the Tennis and Racquet, Myopia Hunt, Country and Harvard clubs of Boston, as well as of the Brook and Knickerbocker clubs of Gotham. During the winter, when Freddy Allen comes to Boston, he usually makes the Tennis and Racquet Club his headquarters, while the summer months generally find him at Myopia. At the outbreak of the war he served as an ambulance driver in the Norton Harjes Ambulance Corps with the French army on the Meuse front.

MISS EVELYN WALKER.

Practically the most smart set will be on duty in some capacity or other at the Atlantic City Boardwalk Exposition which opens today at Atlantic City. Miss Evelyn Walker, a Junior League girl, will serve as usher at the Boardwalk Theatre.

Another wedding scheduled for Saturday of this week is the marriage of Miss Geraldine Gray to Robert T. Livingston of New York. The ceremony, which is to be very quiet, will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hopkinson, at No. 375 Beacon street. Only the immediate relatives of the couple are to be present.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Duane Livingston of New York, is a graduate of Rensselaer with the class of '17. Announcement of his engagement to Miss Gray came last summer. Mrs. Gray and her daughter sailing for abroad shortly after the announcement was made.

ONE of the prominent women on the Citizens' Committee who will greet Senator William E. Borah when he comes to Boston on Saturday will be Mrs. Robert Gorman Fulmer. Mrs. Fulmer will speak on Saturday night at Symphony Hall in "The Recognition of Russia."

Two thousand of the seals, in accordance with the Senator's request, will be entirely free, but blocks on the floor have been reserved and may be purchased for those who wish to make sure of a seat in advance.

Despite the fact that Mrs. Fulmer is the mother of five lovely youngsters, she finds time to interest herself in various good causes.

When she comes to Boston to represent for Massachusetts of the National Woman's Party, and some time ago she took herself and five children off to Colorado Springs, doing some excellent work.

CORNELL WINS FROM PENNSYLVANIA NINE TO NOTHING

SCORE ON FIELD GOAL AND TOUCHDOWN

By HARRY HEUSTIS.

Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—Cornell's big red team that has slaughtered weaker opponents all season met a defiant Penn eleven, and after a stubbornly-fought battle Cornell finally conquered by the score of 9 to 0.

A field goal, dropped over the bar by Hanson in the first period, and a touchdown by Cassidy in the third quarter, was the extent of the scoring.

That time-worn phrase, the score does not tell the story, must be employed.

Bill Doherty's men marched down the field three times in the first half to within striking distance of a touchdown, where the Red and Blue eleven became a stone wall. Cornell's aerial plays failed twice, and each time Penn pointed out of danger.

Those who have followed Penn say that the team was twice as strong as that which beat the Navy and Penn State.

Cornell's steady march can be viewed from a technical description when it is seen that the men from Ithaca made sixteen first downs to two for Pennsylvania. Cornell attempted eight forward passes only two of which were successful. Penn essayed eleven aerials and lost all except four.

Claims With Princeton Eastern Football Honors By the victory today, Cornell claims with Princeton the premier football honors of the East. The Phidians went through the season undefeated.

In the first quarter Kaw caught the ball on his own 5 yard line and ran 15 yards. Cornell then began a series of straight plays off left tackle. Kaw carried the ball four out of five times until the big Red team had marched to Penn's 10 yard line. On the fourth down, a forward pass, Kaw to Penn, was short by inches of making the required distance and Penn got the ball on the 3 yard line. Hanson punted from behind the line, but the ball went only to Penn's 25 yard line. Hanson then dropped a

GEORGIA TECH WINS FROM AUBURN

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 1.—Georgia Tech defeated Auburn, 14 to 6, before a crowd estimated at 27,000—the largest ever in attendance at a football game in the South. It was the third consecutive victory for the Golden Tornado over the Plainsmen.

The game was one of the hardest and most brilliant ever played in the South. Auburn had three chances to score and made one of them good. All chances were on fumbles.

McDonough made the first touchdown for Tech in the second quarter on a short buck. Tech had marched the ball down the field with a fierce running attack. The Jack-ets barely missed another touchdown when Auburn held on the one-foot line. Red Barron made the second and final Jack-ets score.

Shriner kicked both goals. Shriner, Auburn's great halfback, scored the lone touchdown for the Plainsmen.

WEST VIRGINIA TOO GOOD FOR W. AND J.

Morgantown, W. Va., Dec. 1.—West Virginia finished its season undefeated by winning over Washington and Jefferson, 14 to 6, in a bitter struggle, featured by the sensational running of Nick Nardacchi.

diminutive halfback. Both eleven fought a standstill battle in the first half, but in the third period the powerful mountaineers rushed W. and J. off their feet and scored a touchdown shortly after the kickoff.

Nardacchi's brilliant 30-yard run around right and gained most of the yardage and after placing the ball within striking distance of the goal line, he went around right and on a double pass for a touchdown.

The final period saw the mountaineers feature with a sustained march toward the Presidential goal line, which ended in a touchdown when Nardacchi heaved a pretty pass over the line to Himes.

Ekberg kicked both goals from placement after touchdowns.

MICKEY WALKER IS TO BATTLE IN BOSTON IN JANUARY

BOGASH LIKELY TO OPPOSE CHAMPION

By JACK CONWAY.

Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, will battle in a Boston ring early in January, according to a statement made to this writer by Jack Pulger, manager of the conqueror of Jack Britton. Walker will probably be opposed by Lou Bogash of Bridgeport.

Bogash, it will be remembered, is the young man who won a decision over Walker just before the latter was knocked out by his occasional win over Britton and being Irish, Mickey wants to even the score with him.

Asked whether Walker would give Eddie Shvlin a chance at the title, he said:

"Walker will battle Shvlin at the proper time. The new welterweight king does not fear a man in the welterweight or middleweight divisions. He will take on anyone and anyone to add the middleweight title to his list of trophies."

Edna Shvlin's name changed. Shvlin challenged Mickey. The latter merely told him to wait. This is the same treatment he received from him before the Britton bout.

Walker has a reputation in the power of Walker's punch. It can beat down any kind of opposition. He has won three times in the welterweight division. In the third round after Mickey, he and the third round was a draw. He won the fourth round by a knockout.

"Aren't you satisfied with winning the title?" asked Jack. He says he is.

From then on Mickey let up on the fight. He was a champion who had to be beaten.

Football Fans Need Wait Only Three More Days

Three more days—only three more—to await the appearance of Charles E. Parker's All-American eleven.

Monday next is the day in which all editions of the Boston American will carry the names of the country's best football players, arranged in order of merit, in first, second and third teams, and in the honor roll.

The bulk of the information is now that the Thanksgiving football season has been completed. There has been much wrangling and bickering, and there will be a bit more before the final selections are made.

Then, as All-American team that is an All-American team will be formed.

If you are a football enthusiast, you can't afford to miss Parker's great list in the Boston American.

Get it!

Ways, Mickey Smith and Jack Sharkey are two of the best players. Walker has agreed with me that it is best to wait until he has his title before going in for the honors of life.

He was also asked when Mickey gave him a call and told me he was going to show in any more theatrical engagements. He doesn't care for the fight before the foot.

WALTHAM WINS FROM YOUNG EAGLES

The Lowell to Ward forward passed on by Waltham was the first in the battle with Boston.

Waltham High, defeated in a 13 to 6 victory for the Walthamers.

In the second period, Lowell buried the puck in forty yards into the arms of Ward, who had little trouble crossing the goal line for the first score of the game.

Waltham made nine first downs, while the Lowell and Gold only made six.

The James street boys had a fine playing game that was a test for the Lowell players.

Their defensive players, who had a good number, fended the Lowell players off.

They tried several forward passes, but Waltham defense on them was as good as its attack, and they retired on the length of the C. H. Hays' hopes.

Patrick Henry Hickey Tells His Butler All About the Girls

By Frank A. Parker

PATRICK HENRY HICKEY was packing the door in his library up on the avenue. He apparently came to a sudden decision, walked over by the door and touched a button. In a moment the butler appeared. "Did you ring, sir?" the butler inquired. "I did that," Mr. Hickey replied. "I'm needin' some one to talk an' you're it, Perkins. There ain't no way to get things straight like talkin' them out to some one that's willin' to listen. The missus won't do, Perkins, because she always wants to do more o' the talkin' herself. Females is like that, Perkins. "That's right," Mr. Hickey replied after the butler had seated himself. "Now I'll begin. It's Lizzie I'm worried about, Perkins. You never havin' had no female daughter won't understand, but it's no matter. Lizzie's down to school gettin' the fin-

Medbury Says If A. B. See Set Colleges Afire He Might Get Spark of Knowledge

By John P. Medbury

AFTER reading Mr. A. B. See's article about burning a college several women who were studying to be teachers, have given up this idea and are planning to join the fire department.

WITH coal so high, Mr. See probably figures that we've got to burn something.

IT sounds like Mr. See's ancestors never went to college, or they would have given him a longer name. They got as far as A. B. C. and had to stop.

THE teachers claim that Mr. See doesn't know anything about education, but they're wrong. He has been manufacturing elevators all his life, and what could be more uplifting?

THEY asked him to donate something to the girls' college and it wasn't his fault that he didn't have a couple of girls to give them.

IT's made a mistake in saying that girls ought not to smoke cigarettes. What else are cigarettes good for?

AND he shouldn't have said that half of the girls use paint without saying which half.

HE may have gotten some powder on his coat off one of them, but that's his hard luck, he should wear white flannels.

IF summer is the only time for a vacation, then he should have the girls alone during the winter.

HIS idea that girls shouldn't go to college is all wrong. If a dame hasn't got an education, how can she be a teacher?

For goodness sake, would the late wife after having asked her husband for the fifth Sunday to accompany her to church, "The neighbors will soon be talking about us as they did poor Mr. and Mrs. Jones. is he going to support a husband after she gets married?

IF it wasn't for women's colleges a lot of men would have to go out and shift for themselves.

THE trouble is a girl goes to school and gets better sense and then she doesn't get married.

SHE does a lot of studying before the wedding but she does most of her homework afterwards.

THIS alphabet also claims that a girl should be forced to do manual labor, and most of them do. Being a wife to some guys is the hardest job in the world.

WHEN it comes to giving anything away this bird has a heart as big as Harry Lauder's.

HE really ought to set the colleges on fire and then maybe he'll get hit with a spark of knowledge.

HE doesn't take much interest in education, the only thing he's looking out for is A. B. See. (Copyright, 1922, by Eve Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

ONCE OVERS (Copyright, 1922, by International Picture Service, Inc.)

She was a doctor's wife—papa-haps that is where she learned what is called a "knack with the sick."

But if she learned it by association with a physician, she was not personally conscious of it. It took a patient in a hospital to analyze her charm.

said the patient went into a room where a person was ill without changing something before, she was out.

How many persons would have thought an invalid gets tired of the very minutiae of the surroundings?

How many though appreciating this fact, set upon it when they call on persons who are ill?

To straggle a pillow or the bed cover, to pick up something on the floor, to get a glass of water, to adjust the window shade or the lighting so that it is more comfortable, or put a window up or down as the case may be, to put a book within reach, without asking the patient what was wanted?

Can you remember the things you wanted and hated to ask for when you were ill?

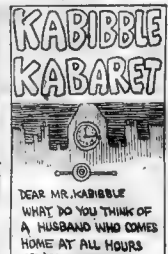

What a good narration, now that your attention has been called to it.

Harry laughed at this, whilst Volney looked on with a smile, as he plucked the king by the sleeve and took him over to the door, saying, “I will be back.”

Mary began to weep and show signs of being overcome.

After a short whispered conversation, the king and Volney returned, and the king said to “Gustav, if I promise to give Brandon the money, will you not be so good as pluck a good girl to my poor Louis of France?”

American Education Week

Dedicated All Over the Country to Thoughts and Works on This Subject

Next Monday will begin what is known as American Education Week. It is a week to be dedicated all over the country to thoughts and works of education. The data compiled during the great mobilization of the war shocked us out of our complacency concerning the automatic character of our educational progress. We discovered that we were by no means at the head of the column in the diffusion of education among our people. We discovered that at the rate we were falling behind in the religious progress of the world that we should soon have to relinquish all claims of leadership in universal education.

This knowledge has stirred some of our educators and is probably behind the proposal to devote one week to educational subjects throughout the nation so that our minds may be turned upon education.

Governor Cox is doing all he can to help the movement and has issued a statement, part of which we quote:

During AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK, I ask that our citizens turn their thoughts to the need of education, and to remember that academic education, highly desirable in itself, is not the sole end or the whole span of education work.

It is suggested that organizations during this week seriously consider among other things the following matters: 'Americanization, citizenship, patriotism, the needs of teachers and schools, the problem of illiteracy, equality of educational opportunity, and hygiene and physical education.'

Hear Borah on Russia

Ablest Debater in the Senate Will Urge New England to Favorably Consider His Resolution

Tomorrow evening at Symphony Hall, United States Senator William E. Borah will urge upon us in New England a favorable consideration of his resolution, recognizing the present Russian government.

Senator Borah is a Republican of independent character. He is the ablest speaker and debater in the Senate today. None denies him that recognition. Senator Borah is not only a great speaker, but he is a great thinker. He is a great speaker because he is a great thinker. He speaks wonderfully because he thinks clearly and because he prepares himself carefully. When you hear Senator Borah speak on important subjects you have received an education. He is not always right. No one is always right. We often differ from him even on important public questions. But we never doubt his honesty.

Tomorrow you will have the privilege of hearing the greatest debater of the greatest deliberative body in the world discuss the most important foreign question that is before the United States, namely, our attitude toward the greatest country in Europe, the country which occupies more than one-fifth of the earth's surface, which in population, natural resources and future prospects overhangs any other country or any other two countries in Europe—a country, which, right or wrong, is trying one of the greatest experiments ever tried by any nation, and has succeeded in continuing that experiment against the world's opposition by force, sword, anathema and isolation.

Senator Borah will ask us why we do not recognize Russia after she has given proof of being the most stable government in Europe? If he undertakes to tell you why, he will make you one of the most interesting speakers you have ever heard.

Go and hear him. You will rarely have a chance to spend so much profitable evening.

That Gray Raven

How to Shoo Him

Copyright, 1922, Mar Co.

The gray raven, always bringing "bad luck," reappeared in the Garden of the Elysée Palace in Paris. It is a very old bird, so tradition and superstition say.

It appeared to Marie Antoinette when she was playing daisy-maid in the little Triniton at Versailles—later her head was cut off. Marie Antoinette was just before her husband, Napoleon, was finally quelled at St. Helena by the English.

It's a bad bird, nearly two hundred years old, and they say its appearance now means trouble for the French President Millerand.

The effect on your destiny of a gray raven depends on what YOU are doing at the time. If Marie Antoinette had not been making an idiot of herself, advising the poor people to eat cake when they asked for bread, the old raven would not have cost her that pretty head.

And the raven won't interfere with President Millerand if his government succeeds in handling wisely the problems that confront it.

Lessons in Building

It Is, Perhaps, Well That We Have Not Emulated the Romans

Copyright, 1922, Mar Co.

One of the institutions still in use—occasionally and sparingly—in Angora, capital of Kemal's Turkey, is a public bath, built by the Romans. For twenty centuries it has offered cleanliness to an aggregate of millions of the unwashed.

What institution in our sophisticated modern life is likely to endure for two thousand years?

Those old Romans built for keeps. Their roads, bridges, aqueducts, their columned temples and great amphitheatres still stand, as does much of their contribution to the science of law and government.

We Americans are frequently criticized for building so flimsily. Where the flimsiness is of the mind and spirit the criticism is deserved.

But it is well that we have not sought to parallel the Romans in our material construction. When we observe what progress our architects and builders have made in even ten years or five; what additions they have given to comfort, convenience and sanitation, if not always to beauty, we may be sure we are not far from the standards of an ancient past.

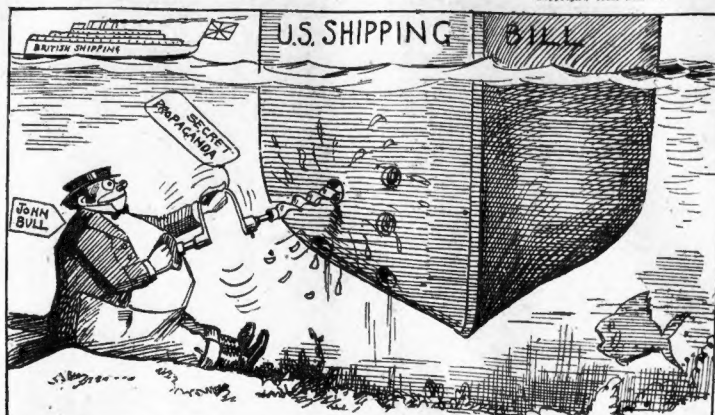

If we build flimsily for today we can rebuild tomorrow, and in that rebuilding register all that art and science have meanwhile learned to proffer for human benefit.

Inventors' Union Editor Boston American:

In your column recently appeared a suggestion for inventors to organize to manufacture their own creations. I agree and I would like to get in touch with the writer. At the present moment I am in the Civil Court of Boston trying to prevent the plagiarizing of one of my patents from a gang of Western pirates. It will help any man to protect valuable inventions of the right owner, as that the public eventually may benefit by them. It would be an act of charity done by you and your editorial paper to help the poor inventor.

Patricia J. Griffin, Editor Boston American:

The "British propaganda" joke is really too funny for words. The writer cares little for the English, having found them for the most part an arrogant, unlikable set of creatures. The agitators of Teutonic and Hibernian birth against the English.

SEEN AND HEARD

CHIEF WILLIAM R. MACKINTOSH of the Winchester police celebrated his twenty-first anniversary as chief the other day. We'll say for Chief Mack that his traffic officer knows more about handling automobile traffic than the vast majority of suburban cops.

Out in Newton is a woman who is wandering. She has no pet canaries. Someone advertised for cats, using her name. Now she is kept busy refusing to accept any cats. One charitable stranger offered a cat and litter of kittens. But the canaries must be protected.

The State street station of the East Boston tunnel is undergoing extensive alterations. In preparation for a new type of car that is to be used beginning soon. The new car will be combined in three-car train, and it will be possible to pass from one to another in railroad trains.

DR. HENRY J. BOWEN, father of DR. JACOB BIGELOW, Boston, founded St. Luke's Cemetery, laid out the plans of the new power and chapel. They are to be used as a crematorium, and it is the only one of its kind in the city. This country being turned into a crematorium.

Without a doubt, one of the busiest traffic officers in the country is the one stationed at Quincy square, in front of Quincy City Hall. Every traffic officer in the South Shore keeps his eyes on the traffic at Quincy square. A fine line along the curb watching him in operation.

Out in Newton a new type of landlady has popped up recently, while buying out for himself, he arranged to secure some coal for one of his tenants, as solicited by the latter. Then he called up the tenant and informed him of his act. Not only that, but he offered to advance money for the coal bill, if the tenant was unable to pay for it.

An old lady, drinking coffee from a saucer at a Summer street counter, caused many a passerby to stare at her. Becoming aware of the fact, she said to an attendant: "I can't help it, it's my nature."
